"Within the Law."

At the Dickson College School last Friday evening, the dramatization of that popular play, "Within the Law," was given in recital by Miss Wrenn Hopkins, a graduate of the Shipp School of Expression. "Within the Law," in four acts, was intensifying and thrilling from the beginning of the story to the very end, and in it were embodied many helpful truths. The artistic and talented manner in which Miss Hopkins impersonated each of the twelve characters represented, made the story of Bayard Veiller's drama more interesting, the large and appreciative audience present following her closely throughout. Indeed, "Within the Law" is one of the best recitals that has been offered a Dickson audience in many seasons.

Hallowe'en Entertainment.

One of the most exquisite and enjoyable entertainments of the Hallowe'en festivities in Dickson was the social given at the First Baptist Church Wednesday evening from eight to ten, by Baptist Young People's Union, a thriving organization of that church.

The Hallowe'en entertainment Wednesday evening was the outcome of a most heated contest between two teams of the Society. Several weeks ago the B. Y. P. U. was divided into two teams, the "Reds" and the "Blues," as a direct means of strengthening the organization. The contest was set to close last Sunday evening, and the team that lost was to pay a forfeit—and that in the form of entertaining the winners. At the conclusion of the program last Sunday evening, the judges, after considerable deliberation, decided that the "Reds" would be the host and hostess of the "Blues," as they had won in the warm contest.

The "Reds" did truly entertain the "Blues" royally. Preceding the many amusing games, a short program was rendered. Mrs. W. A. Goodrum and Miss Agnes Ray Walker sang a duet, Miss Nora Dodd read a comical poem and little Miss Ida Clement gave a reading. Miss Rice, as the "Witch," told many what the future held in store for them. Short talks were made by Rev. Woodcock and Pitt Henslee. Late in the evening, the many members and guests were served with fruits and sweets. The church was artistically decorated in keeping with the Hallowe'en season.

Cheerful Homes

The TONE of the home lies in the FURNISHINGS.

Shabby, dingy Furniture is as out of place in a home as rags on a queen.

The family life is apt to take its tone from the home surroundings and furnishings.

We invite every householder in this community to inspect our superb line of

Household Furniture

Every piece speaks of discriminating taste. We have everything you will need for any and every room in your house, and the prices are really the least pronounced features.
